WELCOME TO THE 51ST WINTER PARK SIDEWALK ART FESTIVAL

Since our first year, which featured 90 artists displaying work on folding easels and simple display tables, it has been the mission and passion of WPSAF to bring fine art into Central Florida for the enjoyment and education of all ages. What began as a grassroots effort in 1960 by local art lovers has grown over the past five decades into one of the premier art festivals in the United States. The work of 225 fine artists from around the world is presented to more than 300,000 art lovers in Winter Park during our three-day annual event. A panel of three independent professional judges will award $67,500 in prize money for excellence in various two- and three-dimensional categories, including the top purchase award of $10,000 for Best Of Show and the Morse Museum Award for Distinguished Work of Art of $2,500.

The 45 volunteer members and provisional members of the WPSAF Board, as well as our dedicated community volunteers, spend thousands of hours each year planning, organizing and fine-tuning what you will see during your stroll through the park. Our Emerging Artists Program features cutting-edge works by college art students and new artists who have never appeared in an outdoor show and our Leon Theodore Schools Exhibit showcases work by Orange County students.

You'll also find numerous "hands-on" art activities for children presented by local museums at our Children's Workshop Village. Delectable food is available throughout the park, and a variety of ongoing musical entertainment is performed during the entire weekend. Our Friday night jazz concert is always a crowd pleaser.

I want to thank our patrons, sponsors, volunteers, artists and supporters who have greatly contributed to the success of this weekend. Without the help of the wonderful employees of The City of Winter Park, especially the Parks and Recreation Department, and the Police and Fire Departments, this festival would not be possible. Thanks also to you, the festival attendees, for visiting our 51ST event.

We hope you have an enjoyable experience and visit us again next year!

Suzanne Woodward

President

The 51ST Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival

TAKE A BOW. YOU'VE BEEN THE GREATEST AUDIENCE WE COULD HAVE HOPED FOR.

And you've been supporting us for 125 years. Since 1885, Rollins has been a magnet for gifted teachers, students, and world-renowned visiting artists. Today, our academic and public arts programs are among the most respected in the country and the most appreciated at home. Thank you to the Winter Park and greater Orlando communities—past and present—for nurturing our success.

On this Festival weekend, please be our guests at the Cornell Fine Arts Museum to see the new exhibit, Wonderful and Curious, a show that highlights the early history of the Museum's collection. Admission is free with your Art Festival program.

On March 25, Winter Park Institute at Rollins will present Jules Feiffer, Pulitzer Prize-winning cartoonist and writer. And on March 26, Feiffer will join with former Poet Laureate Billy Collins and Pulitzer Prize-winning playwright Marsha Norman. For more information on these and many other cultural events on campus, visit rollins.edu.

ABOUT THE JUDGES

Each year the art festival selects three judges from around the country; they each have artistic credentials in varying fields. In October, these judges select the artists that will participate in the show from the more than 1,000 artists who apply. The images that they view for selection have numbers and no names so the judges won't be swayed by recognition of the artist. These same judges attend the festival in March and view each artist's whole body of work in order to select the winners of this year's awards.

KEN BOWSER

Ken Bowser brings a fresh look to this year's official art festival poster with his whimsical and edgy illustrative style. In addition to writing and illustrating four of his own books for children, Ken Bowser has illustrated scores of other published book titles, and his work has appeared in countless magazines, newspapers and periodicals worldwide including The New York Daily News, The Chicago Tribune, Time and Newsweek to name just a few. He is also the creator, illustrator and writer of an internationally syndicated humor panel and has authored and illustrated a widely distributed culinary column. His institutional commission clients include AT&T, Motorola, Borden, Pepsi, Nickelodeon, Pizza Hut, Yahoo and IBM, among many others. His latest book, Space Cat, will be available this spring through Red Chair Press. In addition to his thriving illustration career, he also teaches in the Digital Art & Design Department at Full Sail University. Ken is married, has two children and has been a Winter Park resident for 25 years.

In preparation for creating the illustration for this year's poster, Ken spent a day strolling along Park Avenue, and he translated his experience into his final design. To Ken, each element in the poster is symbolic of something that represents the Winter Park experience. He incorporated bricks to represent the quaint sidewalks and brick streets of Winter Park. The cloth-covered tables and bottle of wine represent the city's entertainment and fine dining. The shopping bag and the red shoes represent the retail and fashion aspects of the town. The dog peering into the window represents the family-friendly atmosphere, and the empty chair is an inviting place for you to sit. Reminiscent of M.C. Escher, Ken has created a world within a world by repeating the poster design many times within the poster. Take a good look and see how many hidden messages you can find. See that eyeball, that's Ken looking back at you, hoping you enjoy his light-hearted design.

BUDDING ARTISTS PUT ON A SHOW WITHIN A SHOW

Thousands of pieces of colorful and creative artwork of all types delight parents and festival attendees alike at the Leon Theodore Schools Exhibit. In 2000, the exhibit was named in honor of long-time Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival board member, Leon Theodore, who was also an art educator at Edgewater High School. He was involved with advancing the schools exhibit since the first festival in 1960.

Artwork, created by middle and high school students from Orange County public and private schools, is selected by local art teachers to be part of the display. This year's distinguished judges, Nancy Dillen and Jean Thomas, are both artists and educators. They will award a Best of Show and bestow honors in a variety of art categories.

Look for the big white tents of the Leon Theodore Schools Exhibit located across the railroad tracks, behind the post office, and near the stage in North Central Park.

DON'T MISS THE TIFFANY COLLECTION AT THE MORSE

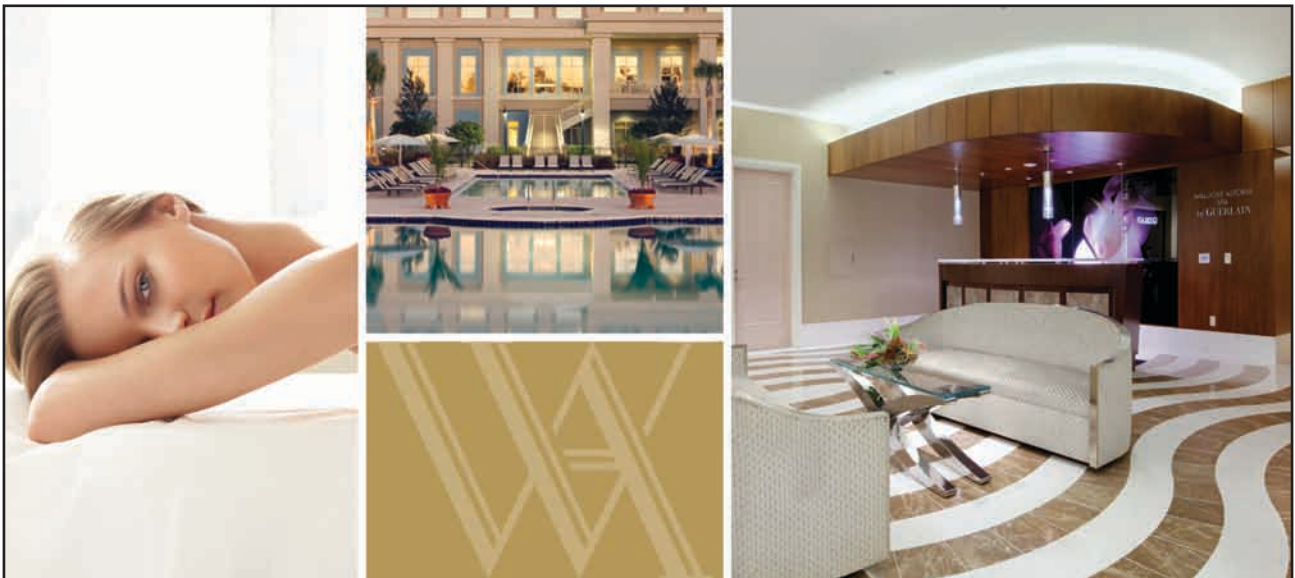

Admission is free throughout the art festival.

The Morse Museum on North Park Avenue in Winter Park is known internationally for its collection of works by American artist and designer Louis Comfort Tiffany (1848-1933). The scope of this collection, considered the most comprehensive in the world, extends from Tiffany leaded-glass lamps made by the thousands to unique windows made for exhibition. A highlight is the Byzantine-Romanesque chapel interior that Tiffany created for the World's Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893.

Admission to the museum is free during the weekend of The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival. Hours are 9:30 am-8 pm Friday; 9:30 am-4 pm Saturday; and 1 pm-4 pm Sunday. The Morse is closed on Monday, but open Tuesday through Thursday, from 9:30 am-4 pm.

This leaded-glass Peony library lamp, circa 1905, from Tiffany Studios is on view at the Morse Museum as part of its comprehensive exhibition of works by Louis Comfort Tiffany.

The fun happens between 10 am and 4 pm at the Children's Workshop Village on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free, and kids can keep what they make. The Children's Workshop Village is appropriate for children ages 2 through 12. One of the most popular activities at the Village is easel painting on Saturday and Sunday, 10 am-3 pm. In addition, each of our museum partners has prepared interesting hands-on arts and crafts activities on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 10 am-4 pm. This is one of the most anticipated events at the festival each year, and thousands of children and their families participate.

The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival Committee believes children of all ages can develop a love and appreciation for art when they are given the opportunity to explore their own creativity.

Members of UCF's Kappa Delta Pi International Honor Society in Education and Hands-On Orlando enthusiastically volunteer to make the easel painting possible.

Special thanks go to our museum partners for being involved.

Continue your creative involvement through the many varied activities offered at these art centers and museums all year long.

letter from the mayor

March 2010

Dear Friends,

Welcome to beautiful Winter Park, the City of Culture and Heritage. We are proud and honored to host the 51ST annual Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival. Over the years, this nationally acclaimed art festival has grown in popularity and stature within the art community. During your visit, you will be joined by hundreds of thousands of people from across the United States and abroad.

While you are enjoying one of the country's most prestigious art festivals, I hope you will also have the opportunity to visit the many shops, restaurants, museums and cultural amenities in our downtown district, Hannibal Square and throughout Winter Park. We have a long history of embracing the arts in our community, and we are excited that you will have the chance to see just why we take such pride in our city's natural beauty and all that it has to offer.

On behalf of the City Commission, our city staff and the residents of Winter Park, I hope your stay is a fun-filled beginning to the spring season. We are happy you have chosen to spend time with us, and we look forward to seeing you while you are enjoying the 51ST annual Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival.

Warmest regards,

Kenneth W. Bradley
Mayor, Winter Park

best of show collection

The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival's Best of Show Collection was inaugurated in 1969 with a $750 purchase award. By 1996 the purchase award had grown to $10,000, where it remains today. Each year the festival board purchases the best of show art and presents it to the City of Winter Park as a thank you for their continued support. In 1977 the City designated the Winter Park Public Library as the official repository for the Best of Show Collection. Be sure to visit the library and see this wonderful collection.

Last year's walking tour of the Best of Show Collection at the Winter Park Public Library featured local artists Ummarid Etharon, Les M. Slesnick and Matthew Cornell.

Our Outreach Program

The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival Foundation, Inc. (the “Foundation”) provides grants to promote community appreciation of the arts and to support arts education through scholarships and programs. The Foundation currently supports The Children’s Workshop Village, The Leon Theodore Schools Exhibit and the Emerging Artists Program at The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival each year. It also funds the Jean Oliphant Scholarship at Rollins College in Winter Park and The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival Scholarship at the University of Central Florida in Orlando.

The Foundation has received funding in 2009-2010

from donations by the Winter-Park-based Galloway Foundation; Land O’ Lakes, Inc.; David and Jennifer Foley; Pollo Tropical (in memory of past Festival board member Patricia Butler); and from The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival.

The Foundation, a Florida corporation not-for-profit, was approved as a 501(c) 3 tax-exempt entity in September of 2008 by the Internal Revenue Service. If you would like to make a donation or find out more about The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival Foundation, please contact the Foundation at P.O. Box 597, Winter Park, FL 32790, WPSAF@yahoo.com or 407-672-

50TH Celebration Thank You

The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival wants to thank everyone who helped make 2009 and our 50TH show one of the best celebrations ever. The festival volunteers, the community leaders, the artists, the patrons and all of the festival supporters joined together to make this a memorable milestone event. The entire community showed its love and respect for this festival that has filled the streets with art for three spring days each year since 1960. We want to extend a very special thank you to the Winter Park Historical Association and its exhibits committee for putting together the most comprehensive collection of The Winter Park Sidewalk Art Festival memorabilia ever assembled and creating a wonderful display at the Winter Park History Museum. To each and every one who helped us celebrate our 50TH festival, we send our sincerest appreciation.

PETER WHITE

For nearly two decades, Peter White has maintained a reputation as one of the most versatile and prolific acoustic guitarists on the contemporary jazz landscape. Armed with an unparalleled combination of lyricism and energy, he combines elements of jazz, pop and classical guitar to create a sound that is singular and at the same time accessible to a broad audience.

In a career that spans more than three decades, a dozen solo recordings and countless performances, White insists that it's the faces in the crowd and the fans that keep the experience fresh. "I'll play a live show, and someone will come to me afterward and say, 'Oh, I loved this CD,' or 'This song helped me through a bad time,'" he explains. "Or I get emails from people saying, 'Oh, I love the way you covered one of my favorite songs on your record back in 1994.' The idea that someone can write me an email and tell me about something I did on a record that was released 15 years ago – you can't buy that. That's priceless. That's what keeps me going – the idea that people out there really care about what I do, the idea that I've made a difference for someone."

B.K. JACKSON

B.K. Jackson is an 18-year-old saxophone sensation from Tampa. B.K. is an exceptional musician and has been electrifying audiences in the Tampa Bay area for several years. B.K. first performed at the age of 11, and has received numerous awards for his talents. He was voted as the 2007 Tampa Bay Entertainer of the Year (First Annual Black Diamond Award) and was the 2007 NAACP ACT-SO (Afro Academic Technological Scientific Olympics) Gold Medal Winner in the Music Instrumental/Contemporary Category. Most recently, on June 6, 2008, B.K. (the youngest person ever selected as a finalist) won the fifth annual 2008 Capital Jazz Festival Challenge in Columbia, Md.

B.K. has opened for numerous nationally renowned artists, such as Brian McKnight, Fantasia, Kirk Whalum, Pieces of a Dream, Wayman Tisdale, Paul Brown, Ken Navarro, Gerald Albright, Eric Darius, 480 East, Arturo Sandoval and Roy Ayers. In May 2008, B.K. had the privilege of opening for the renowned blues artist B.B. King at Ruth Eckerd Hall in Clearwater, and received three standing ovations during his 30-min. set. On Oct. 16, 2008, B.K. opened the Clearwater Jazz Holiday Festival for the legendary Tony Bennett. In addition, B.K. performs regularly throughout the Tampa/Clearwater/St. Petersburg area. B.K. wows the crowds with his extraordinary talent, stage presence and ability to command an audience.

In August 2008, B.K. released his debut CD, On the Move. The first two releases from the CD are track 1 "On the Move" and track 7 "That Time of Night." This CD is very impressive, especially given that most of the original tunes were co-written by B.K. at age 16, with the exception of "Feelin' Saxy," which was written by him when he was in the seventh grade. He is truly a talent well beyond his years!

TIM BOWMAN

It's been four years since smooth jazz guitarist Tim Bowman's last CD, This Is What I Hear was winning rave magazine reviews and garnering ubiquitous smooth jazz radio airplay. Now, the release of Bowman's fifth album has topped the charts. The self-titled collection features hit songs like, "Sweet Sundays" which held the #1 spot for over 12 weeks, "High Def" and "Rapture" featuring saxophonist Najee. Heavy hitters Kirk Whalum, Jeff Lorber, Randy Scott, and Darren Rahn all show up on the record. "I am so blessed to have some of the best musicians in the world on this record," Bowman says of the collaborations. Bowman's son, Tim Bowman Jr., is also featured on the R&B song, "All I Need Is

You." Mellow, pulsating tunes like "For You," "My Love," "Sunset," and "Soul Dream" leave room for no other title except, "Tim Bowman." Bowman is back on the scene with a new CD that demonstrates that he still has his ear pressed firmly to the radio. The new self-titled project, Bowman's first for Trippin' N Rhythm is full of the cool and funky hooks that have defined his personal jazz style over the last decade and kept him at the top of the charts.

When asked what he thought about the new collection, Bowman says, "I feel good about this one. It's the feeling I get every time I know I've had fun making an album."

ALTHEA RENÉ

This unparalleled artist, born December 25 in Detroit, Mich, began her musical career at age four as a classical flautist. She studied classical music while attending Howard University in Washington D.C. and later gained further musical inspiration from the accomplishments of Yusef Lateef, Ian Anderson and Dave Valentine. She has since developed her own creative style. Althea René has worked more than 10 years as a Wayne County Deputy Sheriff (Detroit, Michigan). Althea René's latest CD release "No Restrictions" has a unique urban contemporary flavor with a jazzy/R&B twist. She surrounds herself with some of today's most influential music producers to create an unsurpassed collection of jams.

Grammy winning producer Michael Broenig (Paul McCartney & Marion Meadows) leads the charge with the piping hot title track, "No Restrictions." Grammy nominated producer Rex Rideout (Luther Vandross & Lalah Hathaway) delivers scorching remakes of the urban classics "Wishing on a Star" and "I Love Your Smile." Chance Howard (Prince & The Time) takes it to another level with his sizzling Minneapolis groove "Do Ya Like Dat?" Producer Kendall Duffie (Mary Mary & Marvin Winans) puts his silky smooth touch on "Ladies Nite Out," which features guest appearances from recording artists, saxophonist Candy Dulfer and bassist Rhonda Smith. This collaboration of extraordinary talent can be called a "Red Hot" tour de force of musicianship and groovability.
