

THE 63rd WINTER PARK SIDEWALK ART FESTIVAL

This year's panel of Schools Exhibit judges include:

Susan Bach is a full-time potter. She teaches adult pottery classes and workshops. Susan has a BFA from Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, NY and has studied at Penland School of Crafts and John C. Campbell Folk School. Susan Bach creates one-of-a-kind vessels, teapots and plates. Her pieces incorporate highly decorative surfaces which reflect her ongoing fascination with patterns.

Arthur L. Dawson is a self-taught artist who grew up just south of Tallahassee in Wakulla, Florida. In 1991, Arthur founded Ethnic Visions, an art publishing and distribution company, to sell and promote his artworks. He continued to follow his vision in 2001 by creating Doc & AJ Comics and the Tobacco Avenger, a series of comic books that focuses on health and education. His latest projects include Contemporary Masters, Inc., the Youth Art Program (YAP), The Artist Creations Cookbook, and Art Signature Wines, created in 2021. These four endeavors are just some of his most exciting contributions to date.

JANAS Durkee is a full-time painter who relocated from California where she lived for 14 years to Orlando in late 2020.

Janas works in a variety of materials, but mainly acrylic and pastel.

To her, people are a constant source of wonderment, and she loves to translate their stories to canvas striving for meaning in her work

Jon David Miller is a Central Florida freelance artist, working primarily as a muralist.

Jon is from southwest Louisiana where he graduated from McNeese State University with a BA in Fine Arts concentrating in illustration. Since 1999, Jon has been working as an artist in many fields all the while improving his skills as a large-scale mural artist. He designs and executes his murals from start to finish ranging in size from the small 3' X 5' to the large-scale walls 25'H X 40'W. Jon has created murals in over 75 Central Florida schools where he loves inspiring young artists by letting them see the process of creating large scale artwork from start to finish.

Patrick Noze is a Haitian Artist Painter, Sculptor and Portrait artist. Patrick specializes in subjects ranging from realism, surrealism, impressionism, abstract, sculpture and portraits. "I am always thinking about the wonders of the world from its simplest to its most complex shapes. To my eyes, the world is a large canvas. Everything I see, dream or I encounter I use as an inspiration for my work." Presently he is very involved in the community and serves on a voluntary basis on the Advisory Council for Art in Cultural Affairs in Orange County.
